Beyond curiosity, heavenly longing, fear, or superstition, physical death remains our destined reality. At one time or another, we all face the loss of loved ones and our own dying process. Stories of blissful near-death experiences flourish in the media, yet "Heaven" may seem a far-away notion, filled with wonder, uncertainty, and even dread. Martha's personal near-death experience provides a wonderful glimpse of our celestial home and reminds us that beyond any fear or superstition, that death remains a glorious, natural transformation and that we are indeed here to co-create "Heaven on Earth."

Join us for an inspiring, lively event, as Martha shares her fascinating, multiple experiences "in the light" and more, and responds to your questions and comments. Come expecting a lovely evening of divine love and inner healing, designed to bring refreshment to your soul.
